Down Home Food Made Glades Best Stop!

Now isn't Claude Tindall, captain of the local sheriff's contingent, the lucky fellow. He's getting a kiss from Sheriff William Heidman's lovely wife Jean Marie for the lovely favors and beautiful cake presented her on her birthday last week at the Aubrey Farmer Pavilion. Sheriff Heidman and his wife were in town to visit with the International Marks and Brands conference sponsored by the Cattlemen's Association. The group was from all over the United States and Canada. Just as the Belle Glade bar-be-que alone were people from as far away as California, New Mexico and of course, Canada. For the first part of their conference they had been entertained in the big dining room of the coast of Florida. But several of them commented that the "down home" get together in Belle Glade was the highlight of their trip. One of the reasons it was so popular is being demonstrated by that fellow with the pipe in the right, J.D. Brown. Brown was one of the cooks who brewed up the "best meal we've had on the trip." In the bottom picture Mr. and Mrs. Heidman discuss the Glades with an outsider from Illinois. The group took a tour of Big B Ranch south of Belle Glade on U.S. 27 just prior to the bar-be-que. Music by the Okeshoe strings had everybody on their feet dancing at one time or another during the afternoon and evening.

Cancer Drive Underway

The Junior Woman's Club of Belle Glade began its fifth annual cancer fund drive this week.

The club mailed letters to all businesses in town asking for their support in fighting this killer disease. The drive is being conducted under the auspices of the County Cancer Society Board which is a branch of the American Cancer Society.

"We feel that if the small amount of money we raise in this drive can help just one person in Belle Glade the drive will have been a success," said drive Chairman, Mrs. Sandra Chambliss. "One out of four people sometime in their life come in direct contact with cancer."

"Our success depends on the community caring enough to join us in our endeavor. You can help fight this killer disease with a check and a check-up."

"Your check will help to further research as well as to provide many of the services that our county unit of the American Cancer Society makes available to cancer patients in the Glades. This service has been offered in the past at no cost to the patient and we want this to continue."

The American Cancer Society is always caring for someone and your local Junior Woman's Club wants you to care too. Each of us is needed to help in any way we can. So please support our efforts by mailing in your contribution today.

Checks can be mailed to the Palm Beach County Unit.

Sue Weaver's In the Running

Susan Weaver is a little girl from "nowhere" who wants to make government responsible to the people it serves.

Born in Springfield, O. 28 years ago, Sue was raised in politics. Her father, Bud Weaver, has been the Glades' representative on the Palm Beach County Commission for the past 12 years.

Now she is seeking a political seat of her own, House Seat No. 81 currently occupied by fellow Republican, David Clarke. It includes all of Palm Beach County except for Jupiter and Juno and the northern part of Broward County.

Can one little girl from Lake Harbor really make a difference in state government? "One person can't make a big difference," she said. "But I feel my attitude is what can make the difference."

"A lot of little people from nowhere have made a lot of difference in this country. It's when the little people from nowhere feel they can't do anything that we are in trouble."

"Sue is the product of what she considers a 'very healthy' environment."

"I went to the original little red school house," she said. "There were 30 of us kids in grades one through six. We had three teachers. It was considered old fashioned education back then, but I think they call it progressive today."

"The only way they could keep us out of mischief was to pile the work on us. By the time we finished sixth grade in Lake Harbor we knew lot more than what the average sixth grader knew. It was designed for kids who were only going to get through the sixth grade because that's all a lot of them finished back then."

Sue's schooling continued to be centered in the Glades after she finished elementary school in Lake Harbor. She moved to Belle Glade Jr.-Sr. High in the seventh grade. She was one of approximately 100 graduating seniors in 1964.

Two years later she sees some problems starting to creep up on the area she loves and she intends to do something about them.

Ironically, it was traveling to New York for her employer, Viking General, that was the catalyst for her political campaign.

"For instance, I love Central Park in May. It is beautiful. Yet, I can't walk through it. I can't even ride through it without fear of being attacked."

While all of Florida faces problems in the future, one of the major problems as Sue sees it, is right here with us today. That is the problem of ad valorem or property taxes on a man's home.

"The ad valorem tax is not definitive enough to protect a man's home," she said. "Tax assessors all over the state are taking flack to get everybody's property assessed at 100 per cent market value."

"But what value can you place on a man's home. If the man down the street sells his house at a nice profit then everybody around him is penalized for this when their assessment goes up."

"People are left with one of two things to do. They can either pay the taxes, or not pay them. If they don't pay them then they lose their house."

Sue's formula would use what the person actually paid for the house as the base for figuring his ad valorem taxes. Then, any improvements made on the house would be assessed at a dollar value.

"This would reward the man who wanted to work on his own home and save himself a few dollars," she said. "It might also change the complexion of the building industry."

Nobody Wants South Bay Job

With more than half the qualification period gone, some people are beginning to ask to run for the city commission in South Bay in the Sept. 3 election.

Almost four weeks after the qualifying period began on July 8, no one is indicating any serious interest in running for the three seats under question...not even the incumbents.

The commissioners who would have to run for re-election to retain their seats are Mayor-Commissioner Veritas Cox and commissioners Esther Berry and John Deston.

Deston has said he would not run for re-election if he is subject to the new standards financial disclosure law and Mrs. Cox said her decision is waiting on information Deston is attempting to get concerning the law.

"I'm not even considering not running," Mrs. Cox said Wednesday, "and if I decide not to run, financial disclosure won't be the main reason but I am willing to see what Mr. Deston can find out before I make up my mind."

Mrs. Cox said she wasn't sure how the law applied since the commissioners aren't full-time paid officials.

"We're volunteers," she said.

The commissioners are remunerated to some degree for the two regular meetings they attend each month and any special meetings called.

The city pays the mayor $175 per month and each of the four other commissioners $150 per month.

One report Police Chief August Dreeseon was considering running for one of three seats with no comment.

"I might run and I might not," Dreeseon said. He added he thought it would be within the law for him to hold back his present position as head of the city's law enforcement agency and one of the commission seats.

To qualify for candidacy for one of the three seats a person must file with City Clerk Virginia Walker before Aug. 20.

"Rain, rain, go away..."

Other Nature is really blessing us this summer. Only trouble is, she's overdoing it a little.

Last year we didn't have enough water and moves were taken to prevent residents from watering their lawns. This time around we're practically having to bail water out of our lawns just to see dry land.

Yards which turn brown in the dry heat are now green and knee-high. Which brings us around to the recreational fields. Unless the softball players want to play (rather swim) ball out in an orange pond, games have been canceled left and right, both on the men's and women's leagues.

The only field around here that's been halfway decent is the Pabstke ballpark, which is on higher land. Many players have been complaining (I guess truly included) about the upturn of the Belle Glade Little League. Joyce ballpark both the playing field and the surrounding area, but in no event.

Monday afternoon Annette Davis and I borrowed a truck and went out to drag the field. In case any of you don't know what I mean by dragging the field, there's a metal screen with which to attach to trailer hitch. Then you try to drag it around the clay infield (in circles) to spread the water so it can dry quicker.

Only trouble is, going around in circles don't make much even with two logs on the screen to weigh it down. Sooner or later you have to try it from a different angle, which means going out into the grass and cutting back across the field.

This causes some clay to be dragged out of the infield which doesn't really help matters since there's very little clay there now.

If we could get a few truckloads of clay to the park, I'm sure anyone interested in softball—both men and women—would be glad to donate some time and work to the field. Anything to improve it!

We've also been having some trouble with the parking area. Some people like to go out there and throw beer parties and then see who can smash the bottles in the most pieces.

A couple of weeks ago one girl cut her foot on one of these pieces and required stitches. Too bad a nice thing has to be spoiled by a few people who don't have the decency enough to take care of their belongings and respect other's privileges in using public facilities.

Oh well—enuff said. See ya next week!

A little on the pro football side. While the National Football League is still having problems between the players and the owners, the World Football League seems to have gotten a pretty good start.

The average attendance at the games has been around 20,000. Strangely enough, the lowest record attendance has been in Florida. Could be everyone's waiting for the Miami Dolphins.

But if the National Football League doesn't settle its dispute before long, more and more are going to turn to the World Football League and their "more exciting" games.

Seems like the majority of the football buffs tend to be partial with the owners in this dispute.

Put their main reason is just to watch football this coming fall.

Bike Laws Introduced

Washington, D.C. July 11—The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission today announced mandatory Federal safety regulations for bicycles introduced into interstate commerce on or after January 1, 1975.

In a Federal Register notice to be published on July 18, the Commission also proposes a two-year labeling requirement for all bicycles that comply with the new regulations.

Bicycles introduced into interstate commerce prior to the effective date may continue to be sold, and a label "Meet U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission Safety Regulations for Bicycles" would assist consumers to distinguish bicycles that meet the standard.

The bicycle regulations, issued under authority of the Federal Hazardous Substances Act, are directed toward eliminating and reducing the severity of thousands of injuries attributed each year to mechanical and structural failures.

The bicycle frame, steering system, wheels and brakes will have to meet minimum standards for safe construction, effectiveness, strength and performance.

Other provisions require protected edges on metal fenders and coverings for protruding bolts, chain guards for bikes that are not freewheeling, locking devices to secure wheel lugs to the bicycle frame, handlebars, seat and stem clamps, and adequate instructions for assembly and maintenance.

Wide angle reflectors on front and rear of the bicycle and on the front and rear surfaces of the pedals will improve night visibility.

Manufacturers will have the alternative of reflectorized mounted on the wheel spokes.

Bicycles rank number one on the Commission's product hazard index. Injury experts state that over one million children and adults are injured each year in bike related accidents. The Commission estimates that in 1973, 419,000 persons sought hospital emergency room treatment for injuries associated with bicycles.

Analysis of injuries in Commission files indicate that 17 percent are directly attributable to mechanical and structural failures, including brake defects, wheel disengagement, steering shifting and chain problems.

Sixty-three percent are attributed to loss of control and 19 percent to entanglement of body parts in bike components.

Some of these accidents also may be reduced by the new safety regulations.

Many bike injuries are the result of the interaction between the rider, the bicycle and the environment, and the Commission has slated a nationwide bicycle education program to begin this fall to encourage rider education and the proper maintenance and use of bicycles.

For a copy of the bicycle regulations or for a safety fact sheet on bicycles, call the CPSC toll free hotline 800-638-2684. Maryland residents only, call 800-492-2837.

Comments on the proposed labeling requirement should be submitted by August 15 to the Office of the Secretary, U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, Washington, D.C. 20207.

Homeowner Policy Limits

Worry is like a rocking chair. It gives you something to do, but doesn't get you anywhere. So it's best to know what the limits are in the standard homeowners policy rather than worry about them.

Personal liability coverage which protects you if someone is injured on your property and sues you, is limited to $25,000. Coverage of buildings other than your home—for example, a garage or out-building that is not attached to the home—is limited to ten percent of the full value of the home. Coverage of household furnishings is limited to 50 percent of the house's value, and living expenses your family might need if your home is destroyed is limited to 20 percent of the full value.

But adjustments can be made to the standard policy. For example, with today's high liability judgments, many people have chosen to increase their liability coverage from $25,000 to $100,000 at a nominal cost of only a few dollars a year.

Black Powder Buffs Can Double Fun

Florida black powder buffs will be able to "double their pleasure" this year with ten primitive firearm hunts scheduled for wildlife management areas. Last season there were five areas open for muzzle-loading gun hunts.

According to Dr. O. E. Fyfe, director, Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, there will be special permission or possession hunts on the Camp Blending, Edward Ball, Point Washington, Everglades and Broward's Farm Wildlife Management Areas.

Last year's hunts continued into this season, are the Apalachicola, J. W. Corbett and Ocala Wildlife Areas as well as hunts on the St. Vincent and Lake Woodruff National Wildlife Refuge.

Fyfe said "The ranks of primitive style shooters and hunters have increased tremendously over the past few years. We have no records as to the total number of sportsmen that hunt with black powder guns but do recognize 18 muzzle-loading clubs and one statewide association."

He continued, "Black powder hunters have one major self-imposed handicap in that the first shot must count as there is no reloading of a muzzleloader. The primitive hunts are still hunts, and dogs other than bird dogs in some areas are not allowed."

Dates and locations of the primitive hunts are as follows: Camp Blending Area, Nov. 2-3; Apalachicola Area, Oct. 22-Nov. 3; Edward Ball Area, Jan. 28-Feb. 2; Pt. Washington Area, Jan. 28-Feb. 2; Corbett Area, Oct. 10-Nov. 3; Everglades Area, Oct. 10-Nov. 3; Broward's Farm Area, Oct. 19-Nov. 3; Citrus Area, Dec. 7-8; St. Vincent, Dec. 12-15; and Tick Island, Nov. 14.

Clinics Held

Plant clinics are being held twice weekly and once a month on the weekend to enable people to bring in their problems with their oranges, lemons, limes, or fruit trees and discuss them with an agent who will give a diagnosis and prescribe corrective treatments.

These are not formal classes and only plant problems are discussed during the clinics.

These clinics are held at the following locations: Mondays from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Mounts Building, 531 North Military Trail, West Palm Beach and Thursdays from 9 to 11 a.m. at the South County Complex, 345 S. Congress Avenue, Delray Beach and the first Saturday of every month from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Mounts Building, 531 North Military Trail, West Palm Beach and Thursdays from 9 to 11 a.m. at the South County Complex, 345 S. Congress Avenue, Delray Beach and the first Saturday of every month from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Mounts Building, 531 North Military Trail, West Palm Beach.

Hebert Named Technical Adviser

Dr. Leo P. Hebert has been designated Technical Adviser for sugarcane research by the Southern Region, Agricultural Research Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The appointment recognizes Dr. Hebert's research accomplishments and knowledge of the sugarcane industry and will be in addition to his continued research responsibilities.

Dr. Hebert will be available to the Deputy Administrator, Research Service, for special studies and program evaluation concerning all phases of sugarcane research in the Southern states.

The long association with the sugarcane industry dates back to 1934 when he was assigned to the U.S. Department of Agriculture as a sugarcane research agent.

Infested lumber should never be used. All doors, windows, and roof eaves should be sealed down, and other ventilation openings should be screened with nonmetallic mesh or cloth, preferably having 20 meshes to the inch.

Sealing of openings will prevent the entrance of winged termites from the outside. Construction timbers should be pretreated or impregnated with a preservative to make them unattractive to prevent termite attack.

He said this is not the same thing as 30 wells that are 30 percent sure," he said. The petroleum man said this volume and has enough reservoir to pay for itself. "You might have that produces enough per day to make a well," he said, "but it's not a well that pays for itself, it pays for itself."

City Complex

With approval still pending, the fate of a proposed city hall complex which could cost half again as much as estimated, is still uncertain.

The Belle Glade City Commission took no action on the sole bid, for $1,358 million, for the complex.

Miami architect Homer F. Daniel said when the commission authorized construction he felt the entire project would cost "about a million dollars" and the city hall itself would cost $600,000.

The joint bid discussed by the commissioners Monday, the only bid made on the contract, set price for building the city hall at $1.066 million.

Daniel wasn't as the meeting but commissioners indicated he had recommended accepting the bid, being offered as a joint project by Continental Consolidated Corp. of Pompano Beach and Beau Builders, Inc. of Fort Myers.

Mayor Aubrey Farmer and Commissioners William Grear and Bill Bailey told Beau Builders President John Cottrell they weren't prepared to make a decision on the bid.

Grady said W.R. "Ralph" Kirk weren't present at the meeting. Construction time for the project would be 350 days, according to the bid, from the date construction begins.

Cottrell said there was "very little interest" in the Glades so far as sub-contracting goes and said the base bid of the contract was much higher than normal because he would be

Shell Oil To Drill

A Shell Oil drilling crew will be setting up equipment to drill a 14,000 foot well in the Glades in approximately a month in hopes to find a commercial "show" of crude oil or natural gas.

The well, according to Peter Fisher, of Shell's On Shore exploration division, will be the first well drilled in the Glades for several months now but Bud Henry of the Florida Department of Natural Resources said it will be the first well drilled in Palm Beach County since 1968.

BELLE GLADE—Recycling pays Belle Glade citizens 15 cents per pound for all-aluminum scrap. This includes soft drink and beer cans, frozen dinner trays, pie pans, margarine tubs, and a variety of frozen food containers and pudding and snack containers.

Following a revised schedule for the month of August, Reynolds Metals Co.'s mobile aluminum recycling unit will be stationed at City Park, 500 W. Canal St. on Thursdays, August 1, 8, 15, 22 and 29 from 1:00 p.m. till 2:30 p.m. to pay the public 15 cents per pound.

Belle Glade area residents were paid $1,662.90 by Reynolds last month for 11,086 pounds of aluminum scrap.

Paul Hayden, Reynolds' regional recycling manager said, "We are seeking to serve as many areas as possible with our mobile aluminum recycling units. In order to accomplish this, the drivers operate on a fixed time schedule, with days, hours and locations confirmed each month."

In Florida, permanent recycling plants are located in Pensacola, Jacksonville, Tampa and Miami. From these strategic points, the mobile aluminum recycling units service Georgia, Louisiana and in Florida, cities from the Panhandle to Jacksonville and crisscrossing the state all the way down through the keys.

CRISIS LINE OPERATORS HANDLED MORE THAN 21,000 CALLS ...in their efforts to help Palm Beach Countians last year, giving help.

Mishoe Appointed

The appointment of Dr. J. Wayne Mishoe as Assistant Professor (Assistant Agricultural Engineer) at the Agricultural and Education Center in Belle Glade, was announced today by Dr. W. Seaboard, Center Director.

Dr. Mishoe's research program will be concerned primarily with vegetable mechanization.

A native of Lorain, S.C., Dr. Mishoe obtained his B.S. degree from Clemson University in 1969. He received an M.S. degree in 1971 and his Ph.D. in June 1974 in Biological and Agricultural Engineering from North Carolina State University. His doctoral dissertation was entitled "Dynamic Vibratory Responses of the Human Hand."

Dr. Mishoe fills the vacancy created when Mr. Bill Deen resigned to accept a position in industry. His research program will cover engineering phases of vegetable production all the way from seedling through harvesting.

Dr. Mishoe received an Army Reserve Commission in the Corps of Engineers upon graduation from Clemson University and is currently serving as a 1st Lieutenant in the Army Reserves. He and his wife, Nancy, are residing at 138 N. W. Avenue R, Apt. 5, Belle Glade.

City Complex Stalled

With approval still pending, the fate of a proposed city hall complex which could cost half again as much as estimated, is still uncertain.

The Belle Glade City Commission took no action on the sole bid, for $1,358 million, for the complex.

Miami architect Homer F. Daniel said when the commission authorized construction he felt the entire project would cost "about a million dollars" and the city hall itself would cost $600,000.

The joint bid discussed by the commissioners Monday, the only bid on the contract, set price for building the city hall at $1,066 million.

Daniel wasn't as the meeting but commissioners indicated he had recommended accepting the bid being offered as a joint project by Continental Consolidated Corp. of Pompano Beach and New Builders, Inc. of Fort Myers.

Mayor Aubrey Farmer and Commissioners William Grear and Bill Beale told New Builders President John Cottrell they weren't prepared to make a decision on the bid.

Commissioners John Grady and W.R. "Ralph" Kirk weren't present at the meeting.

Construction time for the project would be 350 days, according to the bid, from the date construction begins.

Cottrell said there was "very little interest" in the Glades so far as sub-contracting goes and said the base bid of the contract was much higher than normal because he would be required to pay federally set minimum wages.

The Fort Myers builder said about 30 per cent of the bid was figured to be labor and that 30 per cent is "half again" higher than what he would normally do for the construction.

City Attorney John Baker said the federal minimum wage requirements would have to be met if there were just the possibility federal funds would be used in building the city hall complex.

The commissioners discussed the possibility of calling for new bids but Cottrell said his and Continental's bid, since it had already been opened, would put him and the other company at a disadvantage.

"If you were going to advertise for more bids," he said, "you shouldn't have opened my bid. Now anyone else who may be interested knows how much our bid is."

The total base bid was broken down into five sub-projects, including $1,066 million for the city hall itself, $108,000 for modifying the library to conform with the architecture of the proposed city hall, $67,000 for a plaza and fountain, $45,000 for landscaping and $72,000 for paving roads and sidewalks.

Cottrell said one reason, besides the cost of labor, the cost would be so high is that everything in the project must be built on pilings.

"These are 50-ton pilings," he said, adding he had little luck in finding the pilings in the Glades area.

Glades to Get Own Crisis Line

Help...a phone call away!
A mother finds what she strongly suspects is a hit for using hard drugs in her teenage daughter's room. She doesn't know where to turn. Crisis!
A family has just moved into the county and can't find a place to live. They need help.
A young man has just lost the last of a series of jobs. His girl has left him. He's broke and he's on the ragged edge of suicide. Crisis!

The one place these people and a multitude of others with legions of troubles and questions can turn to is Crisis Line, whose operators fielded more than 21,000 calls last year, not counting the "chronics" who call back again and again.

Crisis Line Director William Brooks is quick to point out the line's phones have been manned continuously, 24 hours a day, since the line's inception April 1, 1971.

On Aug. 9, that service, with the number 996-3008, will be extended to the Glades and Brooks, and his chief clerk, although the number of such calls are decreasing.

One service Brooks said Crisis Line offers, which isn't well known, was brought into a perspective last week by the discovery of the bodies of an elderly couple who had both died without anyone knowing about it.

In that case, the woman had helped her stroke-stricken husband to the bathroom, where she collapsed and died from a heart attack. Her husband could only sit helplessly and watch until he died, as much as two days were said, for that reason, have sometimes felt on their faces.

He said one of the problems he does expect to encounter, from talking to a number of local residents, is alcoholism, saying substance abuse, which includes drugs and alcohol, is the subject of a pre-determined times to see how they're doing.

The problem, from the viewpoint of the man who must answer reports of all the calls every morning, Brooks said, "is that there are too many people in this county who don't have anyone to talk to."

"They may exchange signals every day with large numbers of people but when it comes to really communicating, they have no one."

Brooks has compiled a listing of what St. Philip Benoit Church in Belle Glade has on a regular basis. Whatever the stated reason for calling, Brooks said a basic reason for calling is the human contact offered.

Brooks, a former Catholic priest who was assigned to St. Philip Benoit Church in Belle Glade when he was assigned to the Glades since it started three years ago.

He said the operators who man Crisis Line are all volunteers and before they are allowed to begin work, they must complete a rigid 150-hour telephone counseling by telephone.

A syllabus of the course ranges from topics such as social problems and their relationship to mental illness in Palm Beach County to specific application of non-directive counseling to sex problems.

Brooks said the operators are backed up all the times by professional help and there is an extensive filing system designed to direct callers to agencies who can help them best.

He said all the operators' training and all the help is needed in some of the situations they face on active service.

He said the calls range from someone wanting to know the hours a public office is open to a person who calls, says he or she is going to commit suicide, hangs up and follows through with their self-murder.

To give some indication of the types of calls received, 701 calls came during 1973 for counseling on alcohol and another 641 on drugs while 1,792 calls came for information on drugs and another 1,248 informational calls came in on alcohol.

GUITAR AND BASS TOOK PLACE OF TRADITIONAL ORGAN AT GCI ...graduation ceremonies for inmates finishing high school here.

GCI Graduates 54

A pouring rain soaked mortboards and gowns Sunday but couldn't dampen the enthusiasm of 54 Glades Correctional Institution inmates taking part in annual graduation ceremonies.

But it didn't cancel or interrupt graduation rites, the rain did manage to change a few plans and eliminate the traditional recessional as wedding skies kept the crowded GCI chapel from emptying onto the grounds.

The graduates' families and friends were invited, instead to remain in the chapel for the planned reception and several large cakes were carried in by helpers escorted by umbrella-carrying assistants.

The main speaker for the occasion was Bob E. Thomas, the former director of education at GCI who came down from Tallahassee in his ex-job as statewide director of education.

Thomas said the 54 graduates were among a total of 844 state inmates earning their high school diplomas, thus becoming new members of a minority group since only 25 per cent of the inmates statewide have high school educations.

Thomas praised the inmates for making the best of a bad situation by working toward their diplomas and a show of hands indicated nine of the graduates are already enrolled in junior college level classes with Palm Beach Junior College.

Other speakers at the ceremony included Chaplain John Davenport and the Rev. Randall Parsons, who delivered the invocation and benediction, and student addressers by Herbert Siler Jr., Owen D. Burrows, valedictorian and Louise Wright, salutatorian.

Members of the GCI Band provided music for the ceremony and Donald L. Tankersley awarded the diploma.

HERBERT SILER WAS ONE OF STUDENTS ...to speak during graduation ceremonies.

Concert to be Held Next Week

Dennis Worley will direct the Continental Singers and Orchestra in a concert of contemporary Christian music on Tuesday, Aug. 6, at 7:30 p.m. at the Community United Methodist Church in Belle Glade.

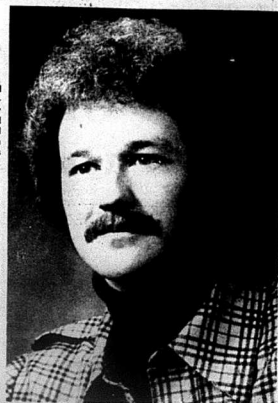

Worley first joined the Continental Singers as assistant director on their 1972 tour to Australia and New Zealand. In 1973, he directed the tour to Northern Europe and the Scandinavian countries. He is considered a fine vocalist as well as being accomplished on both the trumpet and French horn.

Under Worley's direction, the Continental Singers will present an exciting selection of hymn and anthem arrangements, spirituals and praise songs.

In addition, they will present a premiere performance of Cam Florida's new musical "Share" — a musical that shares the gospel, based on the book, "Evangelism Explosion," by Dr. D. James Kennedy, of Ft. Lauderdale, Florida.

During their 75-day tour, the Continental Singers will touch all four corners of the United States, performing a daily concert schedule which includes one week in eastern Canada and several days at the World's Fair in Spokane, Wash., at which time they will premiere SHARE for a large Northwest Music Workshop coordinated with Lexington Music.

The public is invited to attend the concert on Aug. 6 at the Methodist Church.

The Parson Pontificates

I just read that about two-thirds of Americans do not believe that there is life after death. I hope some of them, at least, may be pleasantly surprised some day! This life doesn't last too long. I wonder why the doubters think God would make us with such a longing for life, and then provide none? Would that not be like making people with thirst and then providing no water in the world? There must be some reason for such widespread disbelief. Maybe some are afraid they will wind up on the wrong side of the "river" in the final accounting. But more probably many people find life so empty they can't stand the thought of its continuing. The church had better wake up to the realization of its mission, which is not to proclaim life after death, but to show people the way to life that is worth living here and now, and forever. [See St. John 10:10]

Read John 6:37

"All that the Father gives me will come to me; and him who comes to me I will not cast out." (John 6:37)

As we grow older we learn that it is easier to talk about Christ than to follow him. We face continually the danger of being "sight" of God by becoming indifferent or compromising. We cannot profess Christ nor follow Him if we fail to love those among whom we live. Our love to our neighbor nourishes our faith in Christ. Yet how often we have showed aside the very commitments that would draw us to Him.

Still God can fulfill His purposes through broken fragments. In a rushing mountain stream among the rocks lies a discarded segment of reservoir pipe. Even dislocated and dislodged from its original position, it continues to be a conduit for the mountain stream that rushes through it and around it.

God can use us though our pattern of life has broken to bits. If we include our hearts to Him, He can give us the will and the strength to follow Him.

PRAYER: God, I thank you when I tire of striving and struggling. I can yield the lead to You. You can do the impossible for me. Keep me close to you, through Christ, Your Son, My Savior, Amen.

Mommie ... They want me to come to church.

Yes, Mommie, they do want her in church, for in the church, they have a place for all ages. No child is too young to learn. This also provides you an opportunity to worship and give undivided attention to church services.

"Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Hall Appointed

Harvey Hall, a professional engineer with 24 years service in the Florida Department of Transportation, has been appointed Deputy District Engineer (Operations) for the Department's Fourth District covering nine counties in southeast Florida.

Hall, formerly the District Construction Engineer, will serve as one of two deputies to District Engineer Ben C. Simpson at district headquarters in Port Lauderdale.

As Operations Deputy, Hall will be responsible for coordinating activities of the district's construction, maintenance, mass transit and materials and research offices, as well as other support groups.

One of his priority objectives will be to achieve full utilization of manpower and other resources within the district to insure all necessary support services are provided for effective production.

Hall had been District Construction Engineer since 1967. He joined FDOT in 1950.

as a rodamon on construction and remained in construction throughout his department career with the exception of four years in roadway design.

He is a native of Bartow, graduating from high school there in 1949. He completed the FDOT in-service training program for highway engineers in 1956 and attended the University of South Florida.

He was registered as a professional engineer in July 1963.

Hall and his wife, Joanne, reside with their four children at 581 North Fig Tree Lane, Plantation.

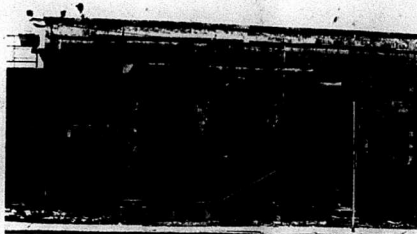

Deaths Decline

Twenty-eight Floridians died in job-related accidents in May, the Florida Department of Commerce Division of Labor said. The figure represents a decline from the 37 deaths reported in April and a slight increase over the 27 reported in May 1973.

Almost 39,000 on-the-job injuries were reported in May 1974, an increase over the 36,000 reported in May of last year.

The May 1974 injury figure is an increase of 2,000 over the 37,000 reported in the previous month.

Statistics for the first five months of 1974 show about 188,500 injuries reported this year, 25,000 more than reported during the same period in 1973.

"Swimming Hole"

One of the greatest pleasures of being a boy is being able to find a good "swimming hole". Clear, cool, clean water in a natural environment, however, is rapidly becoming a thing of the past. Pollution from factory wastes, trash and litter left behind by careless citizens, slowly but surely ruin our beautiful rivers and streams. In addition to depriving our young ones of the pleasures of the "old swimming hole", this constant polluting of our water will even deprive us of clear, clean water to drink. We must, individually, make constant efforts to have our lakes, rivers and streams free of trash, litter, and all that would make them unfit for use by boys, men or even animals.

Vidas Ilustres

Don Jose de la Luz y Caballero

Concluimos en esta semana este artículo el cual nos trae al pasado y nos recuerda a un hombre que nos dio información a nuestros lectores, así como de nuevos conocimientos para nuestra juventud. Es necesario que los

A "Don Pepe" le preocupaba mucho la educación, la ciencia, la libertad, la justicia y la verdad. Sus predicas dignificaban la raza, elevaban el pensamiento, estimulaban el esfuerzo. La mas grande obra de Luz y Caballero, fue su Colegio "El Salvador". A este Colegio consagró su vida. Y allí en sus aulas, con su amor, su predica y su ejemplo se formó una generación que fue decisiva para la libertad de Cuba, ejerciendo una influencia notabilísima en los destinos históricos de Cuba.

No predica la guerra, ni inició el mismo la rebelión, pero todas sus enseñanzas iban encaminadas a formar en sus alumnos la conciencia de libertad. Les enseñó que la libertad vale mas que la vida, y que no vale la pena vivir la vida, cuando se tiene libertad. Por eso, y no por casualidad, fue que los principales iniciadores de la Guerra fueron alumnos suyos en el Colegio "El Salvador".

Alrededor de los años 1840 y siguientes, se desarrollaron en Cuba varias rebeliones de esclavos negros, que fueron brutalmente reprimidas por el cruel gobernador español, Leopoldo O'Donnell. Uno de los mas famosos de dichos intentos fue el que se denominó "Conspiración de la Escalera", en relación con la cual se acusó como uno de los autores intelectuales a Don Jose de la Luz y Caballero, que se encontraba en Francia, tratando de recuperar su quebrantada salud. Enterado de la acusación, decidió ir a Cuba para defenderse. De nada valieron los consejos de los amigos, entre ellos Jose Antonio Saco y Domingo del Monte, que le hacían ver a todo padres comunican a sus hijos el valor y esfuerzos que tantas vidas ilustres y sacrificios tuvieron, y como dieron sus vidas, talentos y posesiones al logro de la libertad y superación de sus compatriotas.

cuanto se expone y como a Cuba. Nada le detuvo. Fue a Cuba a enfrentarse con sus acusadores. Y su prestigio era tanto y su salud tan poca, que no le mandaron a la cárcel sino le retuvieron en prisión domiciliaria. Se enfrentó sereno y valientemente con el Tribunal, repudiando y desahuciendo cada una de las falsas acusaciones. Cuando le preguntaron si había tomado parte en la conspiración de que se le acusaba, se indignó y dijo: "Yo en lo que he tomado parte y tomare siempre parte es en restaurar y civilizar las heridas que otras manos han inferido a mi patria, por cuya ventura derramare la ultima gota de mi sangre".

Su serenidad, su valentía, su habilidad para desbaratar cada una de las acusaciones, hicieron que fuera absuelto. El prestigio de que gozaba se acrecentó aun mas. Sin embargo, su salud no mejoraba.

No obstante esto, continuaba con sus enseñanzas. Sus pláticas, llenas de dulzura y cada una de las acusaciones, en las que se acusaba a los cubanos que le escuchaban, se rebelaban revolucionarias. Y no solamente le escuchaban los alumnos de su colegio, sino que muchos cubanos de todas las edades concurrían a oírle con devoción.

Aunque "Don Pepe" se puso al cadáver de "Don action en que no cabían las doctrinas políticas, el Maestro le dio libertad plena a su cuerpo, pero le dio libertad plena a su alma.

"Don Pepe" escribía mucho, no obstante no nos dejó ningún libro escrito. El Apostol Martí refiriéndose a esto, dijo:

"No escribía libros, porque se dedicó a formar hombres". También merece de nuestro Apostol, que la admiraba sinceramente, los siguientes juicios: "Fue Maestro, y convirtió en una sola generación un pueblo educado para la esclavitud, en un pueblo de héroes, trabajadores y hombres libres". "Pudo escribir obras inmortales, lo que ayudando a la soberanía de su entendimiento con la plenitud de su corazón, aprendió en los libros y en la naturaleza, sobre la música de la creación, y el sentido del mundo, y no escribió libros que recompensan, sino en las almas, que suelen olvidar".

También se hizo celebre el Maestro Luz y Caballero por sus "Aforismos", breves sentencias o pensamientos, de expresión sencilla, frutos de su experiencia, concebidos con el unico fin de orientar a los hombres y de formar sus conciencias. Uno de estos aforismos dice: "La Libertad es el alma del cuerpo social. La libertad, el alma del mundo moral. Absoluta es monarca que sea, y esta es la tendencia de la humanidad." Por eso, nosotros, el comunismo jamás podrá establecerse en el mundo, porque es contrario a toda manifestación de libertad.

El 30 de julio de 1850, muere su unica hija María Luisa, que solo tenía quince años. Aquel golpe agravo la vieja enfermedad de "Don Pepe". Prácticamente se encierra a sufrir. Y doce años mas tarde, el 23 de junio de 1862 murió en su propio Colegio "El Salvador", rodeado del cariño de sus discípulos amados. Su Sepelio constituyó una de las manifestaciones de dolor mas grandes de su época. Nunca antes se había visto nada igual.

Cerca de cincuenta mil personas aparecieron conmovidas por la muerte de este hombre. El Gobernador español, Frascisco Serrano, le rindió los honores de guerra, y le permitió a todos los cubanos asistir a los funerales, cerrados todos los colegios por tres días en señal de duelo. Los españoles intrínsecamente se indignaron, y concurren a oírle con devoción.

Aunque "Don Pepe" se puso al cadáver de "Don action en que no cabían las doctrinas políticas, el Maestro le dio libertad plena a su cuerpo, pero le dio libertad plena a su alma.

"Don Pepe" escribía mucho, no obstante no nos dejó ningún libro escrito. El Apostol Martí refiriéndose a esto, dijo:

Baby Shower

El pasado domingo 21 en el Civic Center y con una deliciosa merienda se reunieron un grupo de amigas de la señora Idalmis Meris, para celebrar este "baby shower". Las señoras Miria Avila y Alicia Vidal fueron las organizadoras de esta merienda y shower, trayendo en esta ocasión los regalos y platos preparativos para el tan esperado bebe. Enviamos a nuestra amiga Idalmis la futura mama nuestras felicitaciones junto con nuestros deseos y votos, porque este niño que esperan en su hogar, pueda ser portador de felicidad y toda la cosas buenas.

Final Plans Told

Final plans for the wedding of Melba Jean Prevatt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E.L. Prevatt of Oklawaha, former Belle Glade resident, to Keith Gordon Pearce, son of Mr. and Mrs. I.O. Pearce Jr., were announced this week.

The wedding will take place at 7 p.m. Aug. 5 in the First Baptist Church of Oklawaha, with the Rev. Richard Whipple presiding. Friends and relatives of the couple are invited to attend the ceremony and the which will follow in the church social hall.

Couple United in Marriage

Miss Edith Gilmer Schwarzenberg and Rocky Fredrick Noland were united in marriage July 19 in Moore Haven with Glades County Judge A.E. Wells officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar C. Schwarzenberg Jr. of South Bay and the granddaughter of Mrs. Edith Grubbs of Johnson City, Tenn. and of Oscar C. Schwarzenberg of Knoxville, Tenn.

The groom is the son of Mr. Ray E. Noland of Lake Harbor and the late Mr. Noland. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wright of Jasper, Ala.

The bride was graduated from Glades Dry School in June and is a Past Worthy Advisor of the Rainbow. She is employed by Everglades Federal Savings and Loan. The groom is a graduate of Glades Central High School. He has served a tour of duty with the U.S. Marines and is now employed by Echols and Collins Electric and Plumbing Co.

The couple is now at home in South Bay.

Couple to Say Vows

Mrs. Edmond Galiano of Baltimore, Maryland announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Marie, to James Edward Buckner of Alexandria, Va.

She is also the daughter of the late Dr. Edmond Galiano. Buckner is the son of Mr. & Mrs. Clyde Buckner of Belle Glade. Miss Galiano is a graduate of the University of Maryland with a B.A. in Sociology. Mr. Buckner is a 1964 graduate of Belle Glade High School and Friends University in Wichita, Kan., with a B.A. in Business Administration.

The wedding will take place on Aug. 3 at St. Agnes Catholic Church of Baltimore, Md.

This couple will be making their home in Belle Glade where Buckner will be employed as a coach at Glades Day School.

Registration to Begin

Registration will begin Aug. 26 for classes in the Adult and Community Education program at Glades Central High School for the fall term. Program Director Lee Young said registration for the courses will last from Aug. 26 through Sept. 5 and classes begin Sept. 9.

Young said the program will offer such diverse classes as First Aid, First Aid, First Aid, developmental reading, typing, health, parenthood training and sewing.

The program includes classes covering Monday through Thursday nights, lasting from 6:30 through 9:30 p.m.
